To whom it may concern:

It is with pleasure that I recommend to you Rachel Daniels as a candidate for admission to your School of Education: Masters in Instructional Technology program.

Ms. Daniels has an impressive and varied resume that illustrates her familiarity with the use of technology in education. She has created curriculum, monitored a $1.8 million budget, provided leadership and training in computer use to entire schools, managed grants, evaluated and purchased hardware and software, been systems administrator of two PC labs, researched, designed and taught classes in robotics and multimedia projects, and been tech lead teacher and provider of tech support throughout entire campuses, among other accomplishments.

Rachel recognizes the value of technology in education and is an outstanding champion of its inclusion in classrooms. Her "people skills" enable her to work with even the most intimidated user of technology. Her patience is endless and her ability to clarify otherwise complex directions is remarkable. Between her natural talent as a teacher and her already extensive knowledge of technology, Rachel is a superlative candidate for your Masters program.

Sincerely yours,

Margaret Macedo
